DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 28 March 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's that the obviousness type double patenting rejection is improper is not persuasive because it is irrelevant that claim 105 of the instant or the claims dependent thereon contain "adding at least one copy protection pulse to each of a plurality of blanking intervals of the video signal" because:

"A later patent claim is not patentably distinct from an earlier patent claim if the later claim is obvious over, or anticipated by, the earlier claim. In re Longi, 759 F.2d at 896, 225 USPQ at 651 (affirming a holding of obviousness-type double patenting because the claims at issue were obvious over claims in four prior art patents); In re Berg, 140 F.3d at 1437, 46 USPQ2d at 1233 (Fed. Cir. 1998) (affirming a holding of obviousness-type double patenting where a patent application claim to a genus is anticipated by a patent claim to a species within that genus). " ELI LILLY AND COMPANY v BARR LABORATORIES, INC., United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, ON PETITION FOR REHEARING EN BANC (DECIDED: May 30, 2001).

2. Therefore all that is necessary is that the claim limitations of claims 105-116 be present in the '842 patent, not visa versa.

3. Applicant's argument that Buynak does not modify the back porch in any way is not persuasive because Buynak discloses that the large amplitudes pulses are added to the back porch for copy protection purposes (Col. 1, lines 56-65).

MPEP 2123 – Patents are relevant as prior art for all they contain

"The use of patents as references is not limited to what the patentees describe as their own inventions or to the problems with which they are concerned. They are part of the literature of the art, relevant for all they contain." In re Heck, 699 F.2d 1331, 1332-33, 216 USPQ 1038, 1039 (Fed. Cir. 1983) (quoting In re Lemelson, 397 F.2d 1006, 1009, 158 USPQ 275, 277 (CCPA 1968)).

A reference may be relied upon for all that it would have reasonably suggested to one having ordinary skill the art, including nonpreferred embodiments. Merck & Co. v. Biocraft Laboratories, 874 F.2d 804, 10 USPQ2d 1843 (Fed. Cir.), cert. denied, 493 U.S. 975 (1989). See also Celeritas Technologies Ltd. v. Rockwell International Corp., 150 F.3d 1354, 1361, 47 USPQ2d 1516, 1522-23 (Fed. Cir. 1998) (The court held that the prior art anticipated the claims even though it taught away from the claimed invention. "The fact that a modem with a single carrier data signal is shown to be less than optimal does not vitiate the fact that it is disclosed.").

4. Applicant's argument that Buynak does not disclose the augmenting pulses being negative is not persuasive because Buynak discloses that the augmenting pulses can be negative and positive (Col. 5, lines 28-33).

5. In response to applicant's arguments, the recitation modifying a copy protected video signal has not been given patentable weight because the recitation occurs in the preamble. A preamble is generally not accorded any patentable weight where it merely recites the purpose of a process or the intended use of a structure, and where the body of the claim does not depend on the preamble for completeness but, instead, the process steps or structural limitations are able to stand alone. See In re Hirao, 535 F.2d 67, 190 USPQ 15 (CCPA 1976) and Kropa v. Robie, 187 F.2d 150, 152, 88 USPQ 478, 481 (CCPA 1951).

6. Applicant's argument that Buynak does not disclose augmented pulses in the range of -10 to -20 IRE units is not persuasive because Table 1 (Col. 6, lines 36-60) show augmented pulses of varying amplitudes including that of -30 and -40 IRE units, which would be in the range of about -10 to -20 IRE units.

7. Applicant's argument that Buynak does not disclose the augmented signal being positioned in the range of about 1 to 2 microseconds after a color burst signal is not persuasive because Table 1 (Col. 6, lines 36-60) show the augmented pulses being started in ranges that include 1 to 2 microseconds from the back porch as discussed earlier.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

8. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

9. Claims 105-116 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Buynak, U.S. Patent No. 5,394,470. Referring to claims 105, 106, 111, 112, Buynak discloses a method of augmenting a video signal wherein augmenting pulses are added to the horizontal sync pulse intervals of a video signal to prevent a copy of the modified video signal (Abstract), which meets the limitation of adding a pulse to a selected position in a back porch region following a horizontal sync pulse of the copy protected video signal. The augmenting pulses can have a negative amplitude, which meets the limitation of adding a pulse having a selected negative amplitude.

Referring to claims 107-110, 113-116, Buynak discloses that the augmenting pulses have a width of at least .5 ms (Col. 10, lines 40-42), which meets the limitation of negative pulses having a width in the range of 1 to 2 ms, and the augmenting pulses have a approximate amplitude of -40 IRE units (Col. 10, lines 43-45), which meets the limitation of the negative pulses in the range of about -10 to -20 IRE units.

Double Patenting

10. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

11. Claims 1-12 of patent #6,501,842 contain every element of claims 105-116 of the instant application and as such anticipate claims 105-116 of the instant application.

12. "A later patent claim is not patentably distinct from an earlier patent claim if the later claim is obvious over, or anticipated by, the earlier claim. In re Longi, 759 F.2d at 896, 225 USPQ at 651 (affirming a holding of obviousness-type double patenting because the claims at issue were obvious over claims in four prior art patents); In re Berg, 140 F.3d at 1437, 46 USPQ2d at 1233 (Fed. Cir. 1998) (affirming a holding of obviousness-type double patenting where a patent application claim to a genus is anticipated by a patent claim to a species within that genus). " ELI LILLY AND COMPANY v BARR LABORATORIES, INC., United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, ON PETITION FOR REHEARING EN BANC (DECIDED: May 30, 2001).
